Xander Schauffele, Cameron Smith, Rory McIlroy and E Matsuyama is all at stake, but I think this group will need to be marginally concentrated before Thursday. Favorite GPP Play: Christiaan Bezuidenhout ($7,200, Kevin NA ($7,600) Fade: Corey Conners ($7,300) Most likely winner: Kevin NA ($7,600) Under-$6,000 options to consider are still early in the week. Most of the time: Cameron Smith ($9,100) - We've seen some boom-or-bust results from Cameron Smith over the years of the Riviera, but the good has resulted in several Top-10 shows since 2017. You need not look any further than the Quality of competition that appears to take on these historic atmospheres and projects, but the icing will be put on the cake for this Chef-d'oeuvre's run of excellence as we wrap up the journey on Pacific Palisades for the Genesis invitation. Thank you again for all the support, and don't miss all of our weekly high-level PGA DFS articles, produced by the entire rotoballer squad. Featured promotion: Golf is back! Come join the fun and win big with Rotoballer. To get around the green is exponentially more impacted here than 99 % of courses. There you will be able to weigh the categories, however, you see suitable once you make a copy, and I always love hearing the success you've found while using the template. I prefer the opposite route Spieth present when making a compilation, but burning head up the has an appropriate price of $8,700 safer moves: Marc Leishman ($7,900) - four straight straight winning both the Tee and the approach. Our own Joe just recently knocked down a major DFS tournament for the Travelers' Championship. I will continue to run numbers as the estate will reach these $7,000/$6,000 golfers. GPP Favorite Play: Patrick Cantlay ($ 11,000) - Make 31 straight scoured pair or better golf for Patrick Cantlay. Par-five birdie or better (12.5%) - Consider that this is about the smallest you will see in par-five marking me in a model. As many of you know now, I do not love the direct approximation and how it is established, then I redistribute the options for more than 150 yards - a distance that you see 72 , 8% of second shots and built a refurbished category that incorporated a classification of approach where 100% of irons arrive where we receive the plurality of data. Very entered the breaking of the fashion I wanted, but the two main takeaways would be scams gains by putting in fast pons and scams gains totaled the fast engine. When we added to the mixture curl, deep bunkering, you needed to know where you can lie down and put in Paa Ripe Caens, you begin to have an idea of why the best in the world appears like the crowd From list A and face the city built in stars. Most of the time: Joaquin Niemann ($ 7,800) - Niemann did not find a ton of success here in the past, but he is somebody who stands out in hard golf courses. The place is exceptionally tight tee, with doglegs in both directions and fairways of trees where golfers reached the short grass nearly seven percent below a typical shifting stop. We have tons of large weekly PGA articles, DFS analysis, tools and DFS counseling. Rahm still ranks the number one in my model, so please take this comment with a salt of salt, but around the green game could provide some concerns if the Spanish can not hit so many Green as accustomed during your rounds. I still don't think the property has reached its overall game, but we'll keep an eye on it all week. After you finish reading the article, check out my weekly spreadsheet at the link below to start your search. These giants range between 26.7 % and 31.8 % bogey or higher rate, but the challenge doesn't stop there, and you quickly see why only 12 golfers have broken a double digit under the total in the last four iterations of the event as you dive deeper into the numbers. Most likely winner: Xander Schauffele ($9,900) - I know Xander Schauffele rarely wins, but math is checking many boxes for me in California. Spieth made five straight cuts at this stop, averaging 3.48 Tee-to-Green shots. Fading: None - Although I am the lowest in Collin Morikawa ($10,400). The most likely winner: Sam Burns ($8,700) - It was close between Burns and Spieth for this final wave. If you want my opinion on someone, don't forget to hit me on Twitter. & Nbsp; Watson ranks 10th in this field in fast-paced Poa greens and is also 16th in courses with challenging to hit fairways. Fade: Brooks Koepka ($9,000) -I'm with the industry here. In his career at the Riviera, Johnson has been a superstar on track, posting 10 top-16 finishes over his 12 attempts, including a 2017 win that came after three top-four consecutive results prior to that performance. Entering as a 7,322-yard masterpiece, Riviera Country Club is a Par 71 that plays longer than the footage could indicate on the scorebook. The driving accuracy is seven percent below average at the Riviera Country Club, and only 12 golfers have broken into being two digits below par at the conclusion of the event over the past four years. There are five players this week with prices above $10,000: This is always the first sight of the field. These two stats should give us a succinct look at the players who enjoy this type of testing. Be sure to read our other fantastic articles about this week's event. Did you like what you read today? Most of the distance is hidden with the par-five first and par-four 10 airship playing substantially less than the average of the tour, but this measurement is quickly made on holes 2, 12, 15 and 18, which gives you four of the most difficult par-fours on tour. We have a special treat for all of you RotoBallers and golf enthusiasts. Did you know that RotoBaller has a DFS Premium Registration? You lose one of the holes with this being a couple 71, and we also have the first classification pair-five as the easiest hole in the course with more than 65% bird or better fee. This radius will be tested on the brutally complicated Riviera layout, but Cantlay became one of the most versatile players on the tour. There is no reason we should not consider this a long pair-four, as the punctuation machines are a couple with six of the smaller par-fours on the spot. Smith ranks inside the top-10 of this field for the percentage of save sand, ponder short game, pair-five birds or higher percentage, pondered pair and fast vegetables. Opinions can change slightly as the week continues. There is probably a little more volatility when you talk about the tastes of Collin Morikawa or Justin Thomas, but since Dustin Johnson is the cheapest of the group, we will consider it the safest option to get Air to build for the week. Play Safer: Dustin Johnson ($ 10,200) - Looks, you are relatively safe, in most directions when you get up in this range of $ 10,000. K.H. Lee ($ 6,900), Mattin Laird ($ 6,900), Rickie Fowler ($ 6,600), Doug Ghim ($ 6,500), Wyndham Clark ($ 6,500), Patrick Rodgers ($ 6,500) Win Big With Rotoballer Golf is back, and it's time for you to win big with Rotoballer! Our PGA DFS Premium package has several experienced analysts and proven DFS winners. Johnson's struggles in the last months can be attributed to his iron play and par-five, but I like where his game is tending entering the week, winning 3.8 with his irons in farmers' insurance to go along with a Top-10 in Saudi International. As stars are being signed and traded, the Yankees went the low-key route on Tuesday, re-signing first baseman Anthony Rizzo to a two-year deal worth $32 million. Rizzo, who turns 33 in August, hit .249/.320/.428 with eight homers in 49 games after coming to New York from the Cubs in a three-player trade at the deadline.
